MEDICAL. The Intelligencer Mosers. Fleming Bres.:

Sites.—I take this opportunity of informing you of the benefit 1 have derived from Dr. O. Mo. Law's Liver Fills. I have for two years past been afflicted with a severe pain over the eyes, accompanied with a nervousness and sense of dizziness in malady beyond the power and skill of our physicians to relieve and cure, caused, as far as I myself could judge, by a diseased state of the liver and stomach. Some of the doctors tried breating, and various other remedies were tried, the stack fast. At last, I procured mother taking a portion of them, that the disease and painful sensation over the eyes have almost entirely left me. I will close by advising all those afflicted as I have been, to procure the valuable medicine at once and save much time and pain, with little expense. With sincere gratitude and respect, I remain, yours respectfully,

He passed his first ten years of imprison serve out, he said to himself one fine morning that it was shameful to lead so lazy life, and that he must find some occupation worthy-not of a freeman, for he was prisoner-but simply of a man.

He devoted a year to reflecting, to weigh ing the different ideas which passed through his head, and examining what should be the definite object of his life. To train a spider? That was very old, well known! Copy Pellison, peugh! flat

To count on his fingers the wrinkles on the wall? What! that was a ridiculous and useless amusement; nothing worth

Autumn Boad-Making.

The Husbandman.

With the press of farm work over, as it will be soon, we may expect road-making to engage attention in a great many districts. There is just one word of caution applicable now, but it is doubtful if it will be heeded. It is this: Don't pile the fresh earth from the roadsideson the beaten track, don't draw mud from the ditches into the roadway. The best thing that can be done with the roads at this time of year is to clean them of stones, fill in mud holes with stones or gravel, and for the rest wait until spring, except as the best material be used when work is attempted. Nothing is more absurd, when considered as an improvement, than the usual way of piling fresh earth upon the roadway just in season to receive the fall rains, and make an unending stretch of mud until freezing weather and the roughest possible course during winter.

An Alleged Investigation.

Grafton Sentinet.

An alleged investigation of the charges against the management of the Insane Asylum was held at Weston last week. The affair was a farce from beginning to end. Dr. Bland was "exonerated," however, by the Board. They evidently met with no other intention than to exonerate him, no matter what the evidence seemed to show. Having accomplished the purpose for which they met, they adjourned satisfied with—themselves.

Sia—Fermit a few suggestions with respect to Republican organization for the coming campaign in this State. Some are recommending no convention, and a sort of mongrel ticket to be agreed upon—how? No one can tell. This simply means that party organization shall yield to the desire respects and principles to socils. A party organization shall yield to the desire for success, and principles to spoils. A triumph under such conditions would sig-nify nothing, and bear us no lasting fruit; because no one would be pledged to any-thing for the present, nor bound by any ob-ligations for the future.

On the other hand, some are for applying

On the other hand, some are for applying the strict party tests of former campaigns, and admitting recruits only under the influence of the party lash, and then on probation. This would simply insure the continuance of Bourbon rule in this State.

Now, let us steer between these two extremes. Let the Republican State Committee call a convention; let that call be liberal and broad enough for all to accept, who are onposed to that element of the liberal and broad enough for all to accept, who are opposed to that element of the Democratic party which has had control of tour State affairs for several years; let that convention adopt a platform broad enough and liberal enough for all good citizens to stand upon, and let them be impartial in their nominations—bringing together on their ticket the various elements—so far as former party affiliation is concerned—now willing to co-operate for the overthrow of Bourbonism and for the common good of our State and country. Then will victory—victory for right and justice, with fruits enduring—perch upon our banners, and enduring—perch upon our banners, and West Virginia be redeemed.

West Virginia be redeemed.

There can be no one, observant of public sentiment in our State, but knows that much of the best element of the Democratic party—but a despised minority, and destined to remain as such, in that party—is thoroughly disgusted with the machinery by which it is managed, and is ripe for union with a liberal movement for its overthrow. The principles of the Republican party are broad enough and liberal enough when liberally presented and construct, as when liberally presented and construed, as above indicated, for all such to stand upon, and their admission into fellowship with it, depends only on the opening of the doors.

Respectfully,

Gro. R. LATHAM.
